Electrochromatographic detection of highly toxic compounds in drinking water. A micro-electrochemical detection system was used for direct analysis of highly toxic compounds such as organophosphate insecticide in drinking water. The system is a flow-injection system interfaced to electrochemical detection which consists of an open planar flow cell and a glassy carbon working electrode. Chromatographic separation of organophosphates was performed on a liquid phase packed column within the flow cell. Detection of the compounds was performed using differential pulse stripping voltammetry (DP

Of course I love making espresso and cappuccinos, but I also love making any kind of delicious treat from scratch. While coffee has its place in my kitchen, homemade pizza is my crowning achievement. I grew up with pizza-as-a-side dish, and this kind of calzones didn't become available until I was a teenager. I've always loved them, and was able to finally make them a mainstay on my table after college. This is one of my favorite recipes for pizza-calzones because it's basic-yet-classic. If you're in a pinch for a flavorful, satisfying meal, this recipe is a winner. No need for fancy toppings or salads - keep it simple, and make this delicious meal. The Recipe Ingredients Calzones 1-2 Cups any kind of pizza dough (I use the dough from an entire can of dough) 2 Eggs 3 Tbs. olive oil 2 Onions, chopped 1 Cup of f678ea9f9e
